It can intelligently recognize the state of the headset, automatically disconnect and turn off the headset when it is suctioned, saving power; when it is separated, the headset can be quickly turned back on and connected, which is very convenient. The in-line control part of the headset consists of 3 buttons, including the function button on the side and the volume buttons (+, -), which makes it easy to control the music and calls with just one hand. When listening to music, long-pressing the volume button can also be transformed into a song cut function, very convenient. Type-C charging port has a waterproof silicone cover, normal exercise sweat or unexpected rain, a short period of time will not cause any damage to the headset. As this headset is designed to be used in outdoor or sports scenes, the volume is relatively large compared to other headphones, the incoming call will have a caller number voice announcement.

Sound quality overall performance is excellent, the bass part of the strong surging, thick and rich with elasticity, vocals are not bad, the overall more transparent, comfortable listening, intoxicated, without any bottom noise. Listen to dynamic electro-acoustic songs, music melody super dynamic, suitable for sports when wearing can fully burn calories!

Tuo Xing's neck Bluetooth headset both ear-hanging solid and TWS headphones comfortable to wear, avoiding the burden of ear-hanging to the ear contour and bone conduction headphones bring a sense of pressure, even if the amplitude of the action is no longer need to worry about the headset fall. And the appearance of calm atmosphere, like to go out to play and sports friends to buy for their own use, or do foreign trade selection of friends, is indeed a very good choice.

Drop + Ultrasones Signature X Review

closed-back dynamic driver headphone with patented S-Logic® technology

The Drop + Ultrasones Signature X headphones are right up my alley and have earned their place as one of my favorite mid-tier headphones at the time of writing. The bass is clean, deep, and immensely fun. This headphone is a great deal on the market and really good for bass enthusiasts.

Listed in 2023
Price: $299

Specifications

- Headphone type: Closed-back
- Ear coupling: Over-ear
- Drivers: Dynamic drivers
- Transducer Size: 50 mm
- Frequency response: 5 Hz - 32 kHz
- Impedance: 32 ohms
- Nominal SPL: 115 dB SPL

S-logic provides a natural feel

The bass is clean, deep, and immensely fun.

Design

The Drop + Ultrasones Signature X is a closed-back design, which means it won't leak much sound to those around you.

Due to it also being a fully closed design, it does offer a smidgen of passive noise cancellation potential. Nothing great, but it is nice to have a fully closed cup like that while you are sitting outside or on a walk somewhere.

The headphones are made of questionable plastic material. The build quality is subpar for a $300 headphone. This headphone creaks heavily, more than any other headphone I have worn in the last decade. The last headphone to creak this badly was another Ultrasones from the past.

Tech Highlights

The S-Logic tech, in a nutshell, is an angled driver design that offers quite a different sound than most closed-back headphones. The attempt from Ultrasones to solicit much more sound staging and imaging size is a valiant one that I hope they R&D even more to vastly improve on, in the years to come.

For now, the S-Logic tech has really improved over the last generation. I recall the days of the 700 series models and how they sounded versus today's Ultrasones models. The difference is night and day.

Every few years, Ultrasones releases a new line of stuff that improved the last generation by a step or two. And it is that sort of thing that I like to see and strive to commend and award in my reviews.

ULE is also Ultrasones' term for the reduction of electromagnetic radiation. All drivers of all types emit some type of emission in that regard, but Ultrasones wants to drop that reading down as far as possible.

From cell phones to computer monitors, to radios, and almost anything circuit based. It doesn't matter, most if not all pieces of electronics, in this regard, will produce some electro-interference in the form of very low levels of radiation.

Safe, of course. But Ultrasones wants that level to be even lower than what all electronics companies insist are "safe" levels. This German company doesn't mess around with safety.

Our Verdict

The Drop + Ultrasones Signature X headphones are right up my alley and have earned their place as one of my favorite mid-tier headphones at the time of writing.

I hope to see yet another revision of this with the same cups and design of the Edition series models instead. Much better build quality, please. Keep the great cables though.

It responds really well to removing or adding more bass to an already extremely bass experience. But the bass is clean, deep, and immensely fun. This headphone is a great deal on the market and really good for bass enthusiasts. Highly musical, enjoyable, useful, fun, and vividly engaging without fatigue.

Big and bold design

Tag Heuer Connected Calibre E4 (45mm) review: big, bold, and brilliant

The 45mm case of the Tag Heuer Connected Calibre E4 is made from stainless steel, and so is the folding clasp, while the bezel is ceramic.

Listed in 2023
Price: $2,050

Choice of luxurious materials ↗ More than two-day battery

Sharp screen and unique watch faces
Wear OS 3 transforms the software

● verdict

Forget about the size when choosing between the 42mm and 45mm Tag Heuer Connected Calibre E4 smartwatches. It's really not that relevant, as even though the 42mm is the smaller of the two, it's hardly tiny. Instead, think about whether you want to make a statement or not, because the 45mm version is far more noticeable on your wrist. Outside of this, the two perform in almost exactly the same way, apart from the battery life and charging, as the 45mm model has lasted a little longer and charges slightly faster.

Remember, this isn't really about tracking marathons or all-day bike rides with pinpoint accuracy. If you want something like that, you should be looking at the Mobvoi TicWatch Pro 5, the Apple Watch Series 8, or the Garmin Forerunner 265. It's fine to track a few general activities each week. That's what I have done, and it works well. I spent the rest of the time admiring it on my wrist. I've got used to the size and weight, although the lighter titanium versions remove the weight issue, and love the way it exudes that unique "something special" when you glance down at it, just like a Tag Heuer watch should.

Unquestionably expensive, unnecessarily noticeable, and to some, disappointingly basic when it comes to tech. The Tag Heuer Connected Calibre E4 makes up for all this with its excellent build quality, superb materials, statement-making design, and absolute desirability. The upgrade to Wear OS 3 transforms the software on the watch and the app too.
